What's Going On With Cadeler Stock...

Cadeler AS (NYSE:CDLR) said Monday that its Nexra service platform has secured an additional firm contract for an offshore wind operations and maintenance campaign in Taiwan, reinforcing its presence in the Asia-Pacific market.

Taiwan O&M Contract Secured

Its service platform Nexra secured a firm Operations & Maintenance (O&M) contract in Taiwan, covering two offshore wind farms. Cadeler will deploy its vessel Wind Maker for the campaign, which is expected to last about three to four months. This deal follows another recently awarded Nexra contract for a separate O&M campaign that will also use Wind Maker. It highlights continued demand for offshore wind servicing.

Nexra Platform And Growing Demand

Cadeler launched Nexra in 2025 to focus on the offshore wind aftermarket, where maintenance and component replacement needs are rising, particularly for larger turbines. The O&M segment contributed roughly one-fifth of company's revenue ...
